NJLP STEERING COMMITTEE MEETING

By Len Flynn

The NJLP Steering Committee met on May 20, 1985 at Patty's Restaurant in New Brunswick. Present were Friedlander, Hoegberg, Flynn, and Kaplan. Absent were Maiullo, White, and Swirsky. The meeting began at 6:45 PM.

After considerable discussion the committee voted unanimously for the Treasurer to seek information from national LP about possible cooperation with them to gain interest on NJLP funds. This has been a perennial desire of the party, but government restrictions and reporting requirements have so far appeared insurmountable.

Steve Friedlander has been authorized to order literature from national LP. The committee suggested additional items for Steve to order, including bumperstickers to be sold at cost-- $1.

Coming LP events were discussed. July 3rd is Decriminalization Day where that great Libertarian document, the Declaration of Independence, is celebrated one day before the government hypocritically pretends to honor this country's revolutionary roots.

There will be an NJLP General Meeting and Picnic on Saturday, July 20th at Len & Ginny Flynn's home in Morganville. The committee authorized the Flynn's to spend up to $50 for ice, paper products, etc. for NJLP members to enhance their merriment. Please come and celebrate with your fellow Libertarians! For information and directions, call 201/591-1328.

The next State Committee Meeting will be Monday, June 17th at 6:00 PM at Patti's Restaurant in New Brunswick in conjunction with the weekly discussion group. As usual all NJLP members are invited to come.

HEROES OF THE REVOLUTION

By Len Flynn

A continuing series dedicated to the unsung heroes of the Libertarian Revolution, people whose daily efforts swell the ranks of libertarians everywhere and assure the ultimate victory of our noble cause.

PART VII--"POLITICAL SEWAGE"

Potential Libertarian political candidates often pass up challenging establishment political candidates, not so much because of the money and manpower advantages of the Demopublicans, but due to the perceived skill contemporary statist politicians have in justifying their socialist views. Many NJLP activists are intimidated by the fear of failure in defending the libertarian position against rival statist candidates. Alas, this mistaken notion drives many good potential NJLP candidates away from direct political confrontation of the prevailing creed of MORE government.

But there are "heroes of the Revolution" working to reverse these mistaken impressions of the skill of contemporary statist politicians: the opposing candidates themselves! One need only listen for a moment to a debate or campaign speech to hear the equivocal nonsense from the Republicrats and you will be greatly enlightened. Their lies are so incredible, and their complicity and deceit are so obvious that even the dullest political observer cannot miss the overwhelming political sewage modern statist politicians pour before the public eye.

In contrast the neophyte LP campaigner shines. Amid the waffling and mumbling fog of the Demopublicans comes the clear shining beam of Libertarian principle. Cynical political reporters are frequently amazed and impressed by the honest and clear libertarian positions LP campaigners give on the issues--in direct contrast to the statist politicians. In a debate between truth and sewage, the principled libertarian wins easily.

For example, one experienced NJLP campaigner rose at a meeting to tell other libertarians that he was "a poor speaker" but ran for office because he "wanted his children to live free." What statist can bring such courage and passion to a political campaign! When a libertarian speaks from the heart, the statist opponent is helpless.

Another factor in the LP candidate's favor is the incredible stupidity of most politicians. Compared to those woodenheads anybody looks good. Remember that to be a "good" politician requires skills directly opposite to those required for productive endeavor. Instead of insight and intuition the successful statist needs conformity and obedience. Deceit and treachery will sink a businessman, but these traits are the stock in trade for a politician. Intelligence atrophies in politics but thrives in the competitive and productive marketplace.

So it is the LP candidate who can win the battle of political debate and need not fear betraying our great cause through incompetence. Our enemies are such dolts that we cannot lose!

MOVIE REVIEW: BREWSTER'S MILLIONS

by Ginny Flynn

A pleasant surprise awaited us at the movies last week. Having an unexpectedly free evening we took our daughter, Bridey, to the movies with us. The movie she wanted to see was Brewster's Millions with Richard Pryor--with a PG rating we weren't expecting much.

We were more than pleasantly surprised by this light comedy about a man who will inherit $300 million only if he can spend $30 million in 30 days. At the end of the 30 days he must have receipts for all expenses and must own nothing. He can pay salaries to people he hires, but they must perform a service, and he can only give 10% of the money to charity.

How Pryor manages to meet this test of spending and foil the evil bankers who will administer the estate if he fails makes a very entertaining, funny movie. Most important is to watch for the very libertarian twist the plot takes when Pryor runs for mayor of New York against two major party political scoundrels. "Don't vote for me," Pryor urges his supporters. "I don't want to be mayor. Vote for 'None of the Above!'" Guess who wins?

If not a "must see" this film is certainly a good bet for a free evening. You'll laugh and wish it could all come true!
